

Visit Ancient Greece

with astrologer & metaphysician Mark Dodich and like-minded friends.

Eleven Days beginning late May/Early June 2011
with an optional side trip to Crete

Acropolis at Night

Wounded healer Chiron enters psychic Pisces. We shall activate these energies in Chiron's ancient home. Spiritualizing Neptune also enters Pisces for a 14 year journey, so we get to activate two energies for the price of one! We shall open to and enhance our intuition, dreams, spirituality and healing under these incoming energies. Join esoteric astrologer Mark Dodich and a friendly group of spiritual seekers to meditate, do healing ceremony and generally mix fun with growth.

The trip will be affordable and you will have a wide variety of experiences— and there is no telling what ancient energies from within you will rise to the surface. (17 of us went to Egypt in 2008. For all my past lives research, it humbled me when significant experiences came to the surface in the least expected ways. You can intellectualize your soul memory at home, but you actually feel what is real when you walk on ancient, sacred ground.)

We shall see World Heritage sites in Athens, visit the Delphi Oracle, and other ancient energies away from the big city. An optional, short trip to Crete is available at the end of the trip. Crete is one of the places associated with Atlantis, and has many sacred places for this more relaxed part of the journey. Chiron was a famous teacher of Greek healers, and he will be passing through intuitive dreamer Pisces until 2019. Adding to the reason for going now is expansive Jupiter aligning with "I've go to do something different and revolutionary" Uranus before setting up a major planetary alignment (called a T-Square) during summer 2010. Tuning into these energies at sacred sites as they are beginning to blossom helps you increase your spiritual growth and service for others upon your return.

Mark will offer short classes on several topics including the astrology of how this energy affects you personally. You don't need to worry about knowing astrology because the information will be offered in a non-technical and useful method. There will be meditations and healing ceremonies wherever it is allowed. Opening to intuition and dreams is very appropriate for Pisces. We shall have a professional guide to help us with logistics and archaeology info.

Some people have expressed concerns about the economy and finances. A brief story: one person on the Egypt trip came out of our private time in the Great Pyramid, took a deep breath in the cooling rays of sunset over Giza, and told me that in spite of the financial fears about making the trip—that she now considered the trip to be priceless. And that was just the first day! If you set up a travel savings account now, putting in a small amount a couple times a month, you will not miss the money and you will have it for the trip.

Imagine yourself breathing in the beautiful blue and white colors, and soaking in the sunshine of Mediterranean Greece as you open to ancient memories at the depths of your soul, and preparing yourself to the energies that will carry us through 2012. You are opening to a higher level of service in this life, and bringing back ancient information that wants to come forth from the depths of your Divine Essence.

Reach down deeply to the core and ask if this is the trip for you. If the answer is yes, then trust that the Universe will help you manifest the ways and means to make the journey.

Mark Dodich has been a professional astrologer and intuitive constant since 1980, and has made his full time living providing metaphysical services since 1995. He is well known in the Pacific NW, has published hundreds of articles, and is regularly seen and heard in other media. In 2008, Mark took 17 people to Egypt and decided it was much more fun to do sacred ceremony in small groups, so now we are going to Greece. See his full bio at www.astromark.us

The Principle of Mentalism, from The Kybalion, by Three Initiates (Hermes, ancient Greece):

"The ALL is Mind; the Universe is Mental...One of the old Hermetic Masters wrote long ago: He who grasps the truth of the Mental Nature of the Universe is well advanced on The Path to Mastery." The Kybalion goes on to say that this principle advises that you can change the conditions of the Universe by transmuting energy (see my Violet Flame page at the web site).

If you are truly drawn to this trip, then you can take actions to manifest it regardless of current outer conditions or fears.

Pricing details will be announced in Summer 2010. Set up a special travel savings account at your bank so that you are not tempted to withdraw funds for mundane expenses.

This schedule may change, but it will give you an idea of the program.

10 nights/11 days main program May/June 2011 , then a side trip to Crete for about 4 days.

Day 1 arrival in Athens, panoramic tour of Athens (passing by the main monuments) before reaching your hotel - Athens Overnight

Day 2 a full day dedicated to the visits of the sites/museums of Athens. Athens overnight

Day 3 leave early for Pelion - visit the area - time for meditation, classes Stay in Pelion overnight. The home of the forest-loving centaurs

Day 4 morning classes or free -mid day leave for Kalambaka visit of 1 monastery. Overnight Kalambaka or Kastraki.

Day 5 leave for the Oracle of Dodoni visit and continue to Ioannina or surrounding area. Afternoon classes Overnight in Ioannina or nearby. Prophecies were heard from the wind as it moved through hanging vessels and sacred oak trees.

Day 6 Leave for the Nekromantio visit - if time permitted a boat trip in the river nearby (this is new, we are checking on it as it would be nice to do that boat trip -just to break the coach journeys) - continue for Nafpaktos - Overnight.

Day 7 leave for Delphi - visit - Stay in Delphi. Visit Delphi Oracle sites. Visitors could hear the words of the god Apollo through the priestess. When Zeus released two eagles at opposite sides of the world, they crossed at Delphi. One of the most ancient, sacred sites.

Day 8 leave for Aghios Nicolaos, take the boat across the Corinthian Gulf, continue to Xylokastro and Messa Trikala time free at leisure or for classes etc.. Overnight Uranodromies. Trikala was the home of Asklepios, the god of healing.

Day 9 Leave for Mycenae (visit) and Epidaurus (Asclepius) afternoon at leisure in Nafplion overnight in Nafplion. Although Epidaurus is known for its magnificent theater, it was an extensive therapeutic and religious center.

Day 10 Morning visit of Eleusis continue to Athens. late afternoon visit of Cape Sounion and farewell dinner in the area. Return to Athens.

Day 11 transfer to the airport - for those going home. Or: depart for side trip to Crete for 3 nights and 4 days.

Note: We shall be driving through narrow, twisting mountain roads for part of the trip. There may be a short boat ferry ride too. As with all trips to foreign destinations, plans are subject to change. In Egypt, our schedule once changed four times in one morning. Flexibility and good humor is needed, and when travelling in a group, getting yourself moving even when your body just wants to stay in bed.

The plan is to have a group of 15-22 max. people for the Greece part of the trip, likely fewer for Crete. This size is big enough to keep the costs down and to be able to get to know everyone on the trip, while not being so large that you lose personal connection and flexibility. The intent is that everyone has the opportunity to experience greater levels of their soul, and to have a good time doing it. International travel brings up peoples' issues as part of the growth experience, so it is important that you be willing to work through any issues in a conscious way. In Egypt, issues included diarrhea, not being able to participate with everything due to sore knees as the trip progressed, and respiratory issues due to air quality and the high number of people who smoked in Egypt. Also, our schedule kept changing because that is the way of life in Egypt- so we did not get to see and do some of the things we had expected. Adapting outside your comfort zone is important. But that is now being required of us when we stay at home!

Want more? Join us on the island of Crete

optional 4 day post trip

After the mainland journey to Greece, there will be an optional side trip to Crete, the southernmost place in Europe.

This ancient island is considered to be the birthplace of European civilization and was home to a mythical people called the Minoans— until archaeology discovered that there really was such a people.

There are numerous references to Crete being a part of Atlantis and the home of Zeus (Jupiter). Crete is a highly spiritual place, and has a wide range of mountains, plains and beaches.

This part of the trip will be more relaxed, combining sightseeing and contemplative time. We shall do some things together and have private time to soak in the southernmost place in Europe quietly with a relaxed schedule. This allows you the space to integrate the whole experience before returning your life at home. You can participate with the group or go your own way.

Cost of trip: The trip will be affordable. The trip to Egypt came in at least $1000 less than others leading the exact same trip. This is because my intent is to experience Greece and share what I have found to be true. Profit is not the motivation for me, but I do want to cover my costs. It is my first trip to Greece, so I want to provide a life enhancing experience at a fair price while asking your adaptability as I make my initial opening to a new country. By late summer 2010, I expect to have the pricing established as there will be added savings for those who sign up early.

(Note: This trip was originally scheduled for Spring 2010. There were some scheduling conflicts, so I put it back a year. This gives you extra time to put aside the money to make it easier to manifest the trip. And, spiritual Neptune moves into Pisces in 2011, so we get double the intuitive opening energy by waiting!)
